WARD OF A DEAD PRIEST WINS SUIT FOR STOCK

It Was Given to Her by Him, but the Executor of the Will

Former Supreme Court Justice Roger Pryor yesterday filed his report as referee in the suit brought by Miss Mander.

in the suit brought by Miss Claude Gilkinson against the Third Avenue Ra-road Company and James S. Duffy, executor of the will of the Rev. Thomas F. Ward, deceased, in the office of the

The report of the referee shows that the clergyman some time before his death which occurred on October 21, 1898, deto educate Miss Gilkinson, who was the daughter of an old friend of his, and who had been left in rather poor circumstances. He took her to the office of the Brooklyn Trust Company in September, 1890, deposited the certificates in a box and told her the certificates were her property and that she would not be left in any

And that was the end of the matter. On the same day Father Ward called on Miss Gilkinson's aunt and informed her of what he had done for her niece, the defendant, Duffy, as executor of the will. He declined to transfer the stock to Miss Gilkinson.

of sounder, safer or more substantial investment before the American public to-day.

Its advantages as an investment

include its very low capitalization compared with its large earnings, great extent of its properties, wide large opportunity for expansion development, and equal division

its profits, as there is no preferred stock, all stockholders receiving all the benefits of its dividends. We recommend to investors desiring such a security a careful thorough investigation of this opportunity. The actual earnings, the dividends paid and the surplus accumulating by this company make stock worth as an actual investment.

more than double its present selling price, and we believe that those who purchase at the present figure of

$11.00 PER SHARE

will not only receive large return but secure a corresponding enhancement in the cash market value of their holdings.

The advance in price of this stock

$12.50 per share, which goes in effect Oct. 1st, is more than justified by the above showing; and as soon as the stock is listed (the preliminaries for which are now nearly complete)

The par value is $10.00 per share, paid and non-assessable.

Dividends are payable monthly; September dividend of one per cent with the one-half per cent extra dividend, will be paid October 1st to stockholders of record.

Applications for stock should be addressed to the Fiscal Agents,
